Chair Martin Snodgrass called the meeting to order at 7:04 p.m.

The agenda was approved with one change to delay action on the April 7 meeting summary.

Chair Snodgrass opened the study session on the Downtown Element of the Comprehensive Plan. Commissioner Dunn led the study session and Gary Lee addressed questions and provided staff recommendations. The Commissioners completed the issues list that was compiled for this meeting, providing direction to Mr. Lee concerning updates. The Commissioners agreed to schedule a short amount of time at their next meeting to review the proposed updates completed so far and to schedule additional time on May 12 if needed.

Chair Snodgrass opened the next study session on the update of the Land Use Element, and the addition of an element entitled Community Character/Historic Preservation. Lori Peckol and Dianna Broadie presented an overview of the proposed updates, and next steps in the review process. The Commissioners identified issues for discussion and questions, and agreed to use an approach for review and recommendation for these elements similar to the approach used for the Downtown Element.

Ms. Broadie reported on the City Council meeting of April 20. Ms. Peckol encouraged the Planning Commissioners to review the updated issues list for the Parks and Recreation element and to let Sarah Stiteler know if any changes are needed.

The Planning Commission adjourned at 9:50 p.m.
